

DIVERSITY IS INTERESTING AND MAKES US UNIQUE.

We live in a world ruled by the stereotypes and discriminations against diversity.

But at the same time each of us wants to be unique and inimitable.

Nobody therefore stops to think that to be unique and inimitable must be different and therefore himself, because nature creates us all different and we cannot go against nature because we will turn against it.

Diversity is interesting, it doesn't bore us because we always have something new to discover.

WE ARE BEAUTIFUL IN OUR UNIQUENESS.

United and EQUAL in our DIVERSITY.

Did you know that in London it is not mandatory to include a personal photo in your CV? The look is free, so you can find a cop with dreads, or a punk subway worker, a mayor of Pakistani origin or a cleaner full of tattoos. This is because the work and academic experience goes beyond the physical aspect, the one you love or what you do with your life.
